

Hi, my name is Phoebe and I am running for the position of MYP (Member of Youth Parliament) because I believe every young voice should be considered and help contribute to laws.

My skills are: Problem solving, Communication, Team Work, Innovation, Confidence to be an advocate for people and Listening Skills. I believe these skills make me an ideal candidate because I love working with other people and it would be amazing to work with people from all over England. Problem solving and Team work are my main skills because it think they would contribute well to changing and making laws. I think I would develop more skills being an MYP because I could meet new people and learn new things.

If elected I would:

- Make public transportation free for young people in education
- Ensure politics could be learnt in school
- Stop beauty standards for young people

I think these aims will have a positive impact on young people because many people develop body dysmorphia and eating disorders brought on by social media, and it creates a standard that can't be achieved and therefore should be stopped. I also think that politics and how to own a house should be taught in school, as many do not teach it and not all families have the experience to teach it. And considering the voting age is being lowered to 16, young people should know how to vote and be well educated on the subject.

Thank you for reading my manifesto and I hope you vote for me!
